

LEED® the Way

The goal of this event is to provide education on what sustainable building practices and LEED® certification means to a construction company. Attendees will also gain insight into the trends and legal aspects concerning sustainable building practices.

Topics

- Sustainable building practices
- “Green designations” such as LEED® certification
- What does it mean for my company? How do I set my company up to seize “green” opportunities?
- Legal aspects of “green”
- Information regarding “Greening the Heartland”

Featured Speakers

Heather Zeto, President – Platinum Earth, LLC.

Both a graduate architect and LEED® accredited professional, Heather compliments her credentials as a sustainability expert with over 10 years of experience in the field of architectural design and construction. This experience has given Heather a unique appreciation from the designer’s perspective when it comes to sustainable design.

Shawn Doorhy, Partner – Feagre Baker Daniels

Given the emerging importance of green building and the particular legal challenges facing clients pursuing the LEED® certification for their projects, Shawn earned the LEED® Green Associate accreditation, which demonstrates knowledge of good environmental practice and skill, and reflects an understanding and support of green design, construction and operations.
