

UNLV | STUDENT COUNSELING & PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES

AND

invites you to attend The Center for Deployment Psychology University Counseling Center Core Competency (UC4) program: Service Members and Veterans on Campus on Thursday August 15, 2013 at UNLV.

This is a day-long program designed to address the social, cultural, clinical, and campus-specific concerns of service members and veterans. This program includes specific discussion of campus outreach and planning, and is appropriate for both clinical and non-clinical campus personnel.

Curriculum includes interactive, didactic, and workshop components that address multicultural understanding of service members and veterans, campus-specific challenges, deployment cycle stressors, outreach discussion and workshop, and an introduction to evidence-based treatments of PTSD - Prolonged Exposure Therapy (PE) and Cognitive Processing Therapy (CPT).

This course is designed for clinical mental health providers including counseling center staff psychologists and social workers, pre-doctoral interns, graduate-level externs, graduate-level clinical students, campus psychiatrists, disability services staff, local community providers, and regional community college providers. Non-clinical campus personnel can include individuals working in Student Affairs, Residence Life, Dean's Office, academic advising, registrar's office, Financial Aid, Campus Safety, or any other university department.

CEUs for this program are pending.
