

Bob Sadowski

Bob Sadowski is a senior economic analyst in the Research Department at the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, where his work focuses primarily on monetary policy. As a member of the regional economics group, he also conducts research on issues affecting the Fourth District's economy.

Mr. Sadowski joined the Bank in 2006, prior to which he worked in the area of economic development: first as manager of market analysis for the Greater Cleveland Growth Association and later as a researcher at the Center for Economic Development (Cleveland State University). Bob was also employed by BP America for 13 years, where he held positions in control engineering and technology transfer. Upon leaving BP, he consulted to small manufacturing companies in production quality.

Mr. Sadowski holds an undergraduate degree in engineering science from Franciscan University and masters' degrees in economics and decision sciences from Kent State University.