Please join us to learn more about the latest developments in research and clinical care for patients with neuroendocrine cancers. Attendees will be able to interact with distinguished medical professionals and fellow patients through formally moderated panels as well as during meals and poster sessions. This year's exciting and interactive panels and presentations will address key issues for both patients and caregivers, ranging from "Hot Topics in Care" to "Psycho-social Aspects of Advanced Disease." The event will also include posters from young neuroendocrine tumor scientists, a clinical trials primer and patient panel. To learn more about this free event, visit www.caringforcarcinoid.org or call 617-948-2514.
